CELL PRESS DECLARATION OF INTERESTS POLICY

Transparency is essential for a reader's trust in the scientific process and for the credibility of published articles. At Cell Press, we feel that disclosure of competing interests is a critical aspect of transparency. Therefore, we require a "declaration of interests" section in which all authors disclose any financial or other interests related to the submitted work that (1) could affect or have the perception of affecting the author's objectivity or (2) could influence or have the perception of influencing the content of the article.

What types of articles does this apply to?

We require that you disclose competing interests for all submitted content by completing and submitting the form below. We also require that you include a "declaration of interests" section in the text of all articles even if there are no interests to declare.

What should I disclose?

We require that you and all authors disclose any personal financial interests (e.g., stocks or shares in companies with interests related to the submitted work or consulting fees from companies that could have interests related to the work), professional affiliations, advisory positions, board memberships (including membership on a journal's advisory board when publishing in that journal), or patent applications and/or registrations that are related to the subject matter of the contribution. As a guideline, you need to declare an interest for (1) any affiliation associated with a payment or financial benefit exceeding $10,000 p.a. or 5% ownership of a company or (2) research funding by a company with related interests. You do not need to disclose diversified mutual funds, 401ks, or investment trusts.

Authors should also disclose relevant financial interests of immediate family members. Cell Press uses the Public Health Service definition of "immediate family member," which includes spouse and dependent children.

Where do I declare competing interests?

Competing interests should be disclosed on this form as well as in a "declaration of interests" section in the manuscript. This section should include financial or other competing interests as well as affiliations that are not included in the author list. Examples of "declaration of interests" language include:

> "AUTHOR is an employee and shareholder of COMPANY."
> "AUTHOR is a founder of COMPANY and a member of its scientific advisory board."

NOTE: Primary affiliations should be included with the author list and do not need to be included in the "declaration of interests" section. Funding sources should be included in the "acknowledgments" section and also do not need to be included in the "declaration of interests" section. (A small number of front-matter article types do not include an "acknowledgments" section. For these articles, reporting of funding sources is not required.)

What if there are no competing interests to declare?

If you have no competing interests to declare, please note that in the "declaration of interests" section with the following wording:

> "The authors declare no competing interests."
